

Motion Picture Notes.

Alfred de Manby, assistant to R. L. Rothapel at the Rialto, has gone on a vacation. Mrs. de Manby and he are visiting Joe Cawthorne at Deal Beach.

Orrin Johnson has been engaged for the leading role in "The Light of Dusk" by Anthony P. Kelly. It is a Lubin picture. Edgar Lewis will direct.

Recently a scrawny dog, hungry and tired out, crawled into the American-Mutual studio and was immediately adopted by the actors. Karl Coolidge decided there was a scenario in the dog's condition and he wrote "A Man's Friend." The dog, Teddy, will be the star.

Hazel Dawn saw herself in "The Feud Girl" at the Strand Monday night. In response to much applause she stood up in her box and played an air from "The Pink Lady" on a violin. Two young women in the box above almost fell out trying to get a glimpse of Miss Dawn.

Princess Nona Darkfeather, an honest-to-goodness Indian girl, is now a Lubin star. Capt. Wilber Melville discovered her and gave her a role in a picture a short time ago.

She did so well that she was given a contract.

Violet Mercereau has decided not to propose marriage to Roy Ferrand, winner of the Universal's "Handsome Man" contest. Miss Mercereau looked Roy over closely and said he wasn't tall enough. And furthermore he's a blond, and the actress says she will never marry any man with yellow locks.

An old pair of shoes at the Mutual's booth at the recent film show at Madison Square Garden attracted much attention. It developed that they were the property of Charlie Chaplin and that the comedian had used them in some of his pictures. After the show was over the shoes were sent back to Chaplin in Los Angeles.

Willie Collier, now a film star, was scolding the crowd at the Friars' Frolic auction sale of seats at the Astor Theatre yesterday.

"You people remind me of those who go to Los Angeles," he said. "They arrive there with one lung and one dollar each and try to save both."

SEEKING THE SIGHTS. A Yonkers policeman stopped two blind men on the street last night. One was leading the other. "Where have you two been?" asked the cop.

"In New York," they said, "seeking the sights."

REAL ESTATE.

A Vacation Suggestion

What would you give to have a home at the seashore or in the country when the summer vacation comes around?

By living on Long Island you can combine the summer vacation with the permanent home feature and save the cost of the former.

Think of living amid summer vacation enjoyment during the summer and amid winter sports in winter. All of this is as near your business in point of time as uptown New York.

Send ten cents for beautifully illustrated book, addressing the Gen'l. Agent Long Island R. R., Pennsylvania Station, N. Y.

"Nobody Home but the HOLMES

—but that's a plenty"— is the verdict of burglars. When they see the Holmes sign in the window of a house they know they can't get in without sounding an alarm at the nearest Holmes Central Office.

For more than 40 years the Holmes Company's only business has been the protection of property. We guard against burglary and prevent damage from fires, leaks, broken windows and all other irregularities.

Make sure that YOUR property will be safe this summer by arranging for Holmes Protection now.
